Washington, DC - Next week, Rep. Bruce Braley (D-Iowa) will continue a series of town hall meetings he began last month to seek constituents' input on healthcare reform legislation pending in Congress. Braley will discuss the House health care reform bill, listen to constituents' concerns, and take questions.

Braley is a member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, a key committee of jurisdiction in the healthcare reform debate. Braley has held five healthcare reform town hall meetings so far—in Davenport, Dubuque, Oelwein, Waterloo, and Independence. By the end of August, Braley will have held 12 healthcare town hall meetings—one in each First District County.

Braley's town hall meetings on healthcare reform are free and open to the public.
